I became a KLOVE listener over one year ago and have not listened to another radio station since in my area of Austin, Texas. KLOVE offers the positive music and commentary all through my day to keep me lifted and focused on what is really important. Of all the popular FM radio stations available in the Austin area, KLOVE is the only one I chose to listen to and actively support to keep on the air. It is also beneficial that most anywhere I travel, I can find a KLOVE station close by to stay in touch and grounded. Of stations that have come and gone in the past, I simply found another station to satisfy my needs; however, there is no other programming like KLOVE in existence and it would be a great loss if it were ever taken off the air. The Christian messaging is needed by many, and the positive music and on-air personalities is a winning combination for the power of good among all the negative and mind-numbing garbage that polutes the airwaves today. KLOVE's mission is beyond this earth and I am so thankful we have it available to so many of us today.
